I agree that the information I provided is true and accurate, and I have answered all questions the best I can. I will cooperate in the selection process with the TCC Wellness Program.

I understand participation in the Youth Wellness Warrior project is voluntary with no payment for participating, that it is a several months commitment, and I agree that I can meet the minimum expectations outlined below.

The Youth Wellness Movement involves:

- Participating in once-a-week virtual classes (live streaming or posted videos) for 4 months.
- Completing weekly activities/challenges and posting your results.
- Interacting with the prevention team via social media and e-mail.

The Youth Leadership through Arts involves:

- Participating in once-a-week live on-line class for 4 months.
- Actively participating in a sampling of different creative arts methods for healing and inspirational expression such as poetry, film, photography, dance, music, comedy, painting, sculpting, acting, etc.
- Interacting with the course instructors via social media, e-mail, and phone.
- Participating in an art showcase inspiring wellness in your community through the art form of your choice at a community virtual event.

I agree that if I choose or am not able to continue to attend after I start, I will let project staff know as soon as possible so someone else may be able to be enrolled in my place.

The Youth Wellness Warrior program is limited to 25 participants in each services group. Participants must reside in a rural community within the TCC region, agree to attend sessions and activities, and participate in projects. I understand that the primary objective of the project is to explore and participate in healthy outlets and healthy communication. Therefore, during and after training completion, participants should be willing to be examples of wellness for their community.
